Friday Evening
April 16

"Baseball is 90% mental and the other half is physical."
Yogi Berra

The Script:

Get ready for a triple-header as you begin the evening with a "Pre-Game Warm-up Party" in the Hotel Beaumont's soon-to-be garden. A playing field will magically appear featuring high spirits, concessions, pitching contests, photographs in a classic car, commemorative baseballs and radio personality Kevin Born, COOL 92.5.

The 1922 Hotel Lobby is the perfect nostalgic setting for the evening's second game, a seated dinner provided by Cheddar's and the Hotel Beaumont. No hot dogs here, we're talking baby-back ribs, chicken and baked potatoes, all served by waiters straight from spring training.

Abbot and Costello can't come, but "Who's on First?" will provide the evening's funniest moment as you enjoy Baby Ruth's on a mound of Blue Bell ice cream. Our own rendition of "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" is your signal to walk next door to the 1927 Jefferson Theatre for "The Natural," starring our favorite leading man, Robert Redford.
